

Unleashing Strategic Generosity in Greater Houston: Donor Partner Training

- ❖ Would you or someone you love like to become a more impactful donor?
- ❖ Would you like to join others who care about strengthening Houston's nonprofits?
- ❖ Have you considered, besides being a donor or on a board or committee, how you could help nonprofits that are lead by people of color and those that serve low income and new immigrant communities here in Houston?
- ❖ Have you thought about how to make a great case for coverage by the media?
- ❖ Would you join others in getting over your fear of asking for money or help other donors to?

Join Inspired Legacies' Houston Donor Partner Program and Coaching Series: March-June 2009.

A Donor Partner uses his or her skills and contacts to work on behalf of a nonprofit organization as a supplement to giving financial support. Donor Partners engage in an explicit agreement with a nonprofit organization about how to best serve the organization and be supported to succeed in an agreed upon role.

Skills that will be developed with other Houston Donor Partners

- ❖ Understanding the field of philanthropy
- ❖ Fundraising: engaging donors to make major gifts and legacy plans
- ❖ Advocacy or public speaking: media messaging
- ❖ Mentoring or partnering across class, race, age, lifestyles and other differences

For three training sessions (2.5 hours each) and three coaching phone calls with the Inspired Legacies' team, the cost is $250 per person. Limited number of spots available, so let us know your interest before March 15th by calling or emailing tracy@inspiredlegacies.org or 713-527-7671 x1. Please spread the word! Let's help Houston have a next generation of Donor Partners!
